

SH2.0.1 Instructions

1st – Load the image

A rectangular button with a light blue background and a thin black border, containing the text "Load Image" in black.

2nd – Create a text file (ex. txt) in order to store data

A rectangular button with a light blue background and a thin black border, containing the text "New File" in black.

3rd – Select with the mouse two points diagonally making up a rectangle with covers all the desired area.

4th - Proceed the analysis

A rectangular button with a light blue background and a thin black border, containing the text "Proceed" in black.

5th - Save the result

A rectangular button with a light blue background and a thin black border, containing the text "Write to File" in black.

Note: Repeat the 3rd to 5th.steps up to every desired areas of the same image be got.